Join us to see what
God made in the sky!

Sunday, April 12th
(Rain date -19th)

We'll begin inside for a brief overview of what is in the night sky, consider some basic science of the celestial creation from a Christian perspective, and learn about some tools and equipment used to observe the skies. After it gets dark, we'll have a couple of telescopes set up in the parking lot to view God's breathtaking creativity. If you own a telescope or binoculars, we encourage you to bring them. Question?
